CITY ASKS PERMISSION FOR FALLOUT SHELTERS IN DIKE

Radioactive Fallout —

is the vaporized earth and other materials mixed with radioactive fission products of an exploding bomb, borne aloft (sometimes 15 to 20 miles) and dispensed on wind currents prevailing.

Compared to a nearly invisible snowstorm, this material covers all exposed objects, with the constant emission of Gamma rays (like X-rays).

Dosage is measured in reontgens, and 600 reontgens is nearly always fatal.

However, this radiation decays approximately according to the following table; at explosion and following

3,000 reontgens per hour maximum	300 reontgens per hour	30 reontgens per hour	3 reontgens per hour
1 hour	7 hours	48 hours	2 weeks

Concrete bricks, earth or sand, steel, lead, wood and even books of the proper thickness are protection against fall radiation, according to official bulletins.

Equivalent protection may be had with the following materials and specified thickness: 8 inches concrete, 12 inches of earth or sand, 2 1/2 inches of steel, 1 1/2 inches of lead, 30 inches of wood, 16 inches of books.

Radiation admitted thru Glass — 99 percent.

Frame house with wood sheathing — 70 percent.

Brick Veneer Wall — 30 percent.

8 inches concrete — 12 percent.

12 inches of earth — 12 percent.

Ten square feet for family units or 12 1/2 square feet for mass shelters are specified per person.

Important items of first consideration: Ventilation, radiation protection, lighting.

7 gallons of water per person per day.

Concrete at 640 or 1240 on your radio will keep you informed as to possible direction of radio-atomic fallout clouds following a bomb.

How long to stay in shelter.

How long you may venture out, and

How long you may stay.

Adult Class In Cane Production To Be Organized At BGHS Aug. 29

An organizational meeting for an Adult Class in Cane Production will be held at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, August 29 in the Belle Glade High School Cafeteria.

To be presented will be the suggested topics to be discussed in later meetings and an opportunity for those present to make recommendations for changes and to decide the time and dates of the class meetings.

The tentative subjects to be discussed have been recommended by Mr. O. H. Sheppard.

Bowling Lanes Take The Bumps

On announcement of the closing of the Glades Bowling Lanes for three days while the lanes are being resurfaced, we asked a few questions.

In answer to "How many games?" we were given the figure of "approximately 100,000" since opening day October 1st.

With sixteen lanes, this is an average of 6,250 games per lane and with an estimated 18 balls per game we find 112,500 times a ball has been bumped along each lane.

YOUR BUSY LEGISLATURE

By Rep. Emmett S. Roberts

Over the past ten years the population of Palm Beach County increased from 114,600 to approximately 229,000, doubling its 1950 census figures. This increase in urban areas and rising income levels has caused a growth in the number of incorporated new towns and cities, so that Palm Beach County now has some 37 incorporated towns, the highest in the state.

Whether it is desirable to create so many new towns, particularly those small in area, is a big question. Towns certainly should be large enough in area to provide all municipal services it citizens may have without undue tax burdens. Many of the towns so created may have considerable problems in this regard in the future.

Each legislative session sees great increase in the number of bills introduced, not only as a result of new municipalities, but also because of the increasing population requiring additional services and modernization of present charters. County Governments find themselves pressed to provide new facilities and services to its citizens.

The 1961 session of the Legislature attempted to cut down on the number of local bills by the introduction of a bill known as the "County Code" bill. This bill would have given limited authority to County governments to enact local ordinances in certain areas.

The Palm Beach County legislative delegation passed a total of 75 local bills in 1961. This is one of the highest in the state. There were 4,487 bills, local and general, introduced with 3,015 becoming laws. Of this number 2,476 were local bills. Over the past thirty years a form of local bill known as the "County Code" bill has created a general mass of confusion. All of these population acts need to be upgraded due to new census figures each ten years. With only a few exceptions Palm Beach County has eliminated use of the population act as the means of passing local legislation.

Next week I will discuss effects of reorganizations in Palm Beach County and County government operations.

Hospital Auxiliary Members Ready For Fall Meeting

Safety Film Shown At Lions Meeting

Pork Chopper T. E. Hollingsworth arranged the program for this week's luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday, presenting the speaker Sgt. Tom Hodges and guests. Corporal Glen Blocker and Capt. J. W. Hagan, of Florida Highway Patrol.

Sgt. Hodges showed a film "Death on the Highway," explaining how accidents happen and means of prevention, and answered questions from the group. He also explained the new procedure on acquiring Florida Driver's license.

There will be no meeting next Wednesday, as the club will meet jointly with the Rotarians Friday when Earl S. Wolfson, Jr., of Gainesville, head of State Department of Education and Civil Defense Project, will be the speaker. Guests from Civilians will also join the group.

PROPOSED FALLOUT SHELTER IN DIKE

"Not an impractical plan" or "Fine, that's the only sensible thing to do" are the expressions of two engineers of ability and plenty of knowledge of the dike around Lake Okeechobee, who, at this time, wish to be not identified.

Belle Glade's City Fathers emphasized to the Secretary of Defense that consideration has been given to access roads, traffic control, parking of large numbers of conveyances in connection with a possible group of community shelters.

Again, there is a point on the dike opposite the southern end of Terry Island and one opposite the northern end of Krasner Island where the islands arrest and greatly lessen any possible wave action from hurricanes winds and tides bearing a southerly or southeasterly direction.

This fact lessens the potential danger of weakening the dike by insertion of "boxes" into the dike for fallout protection.

The heavy traffic of autos, pedestrians and bicycle riders at the Main Street bridge over the Hillboro Canal has long been a source of great worry to the police of Belle Glade and many parents of school children.

A substantial relief for this is being constructed now in the form of a tunnel and walkway under the north end of the bridge on the north berm of the canal.

Pedestrians from the south side of the Hillboro as well as bicycle riders will be diverted to the right eastward along the north side of the canal, and again right on to the walkway under the bridge. The traffic will reenter the street through the parkway west of the bridge.

Bicycle riders must dismount and walk under the bridge," says Chief Goodlett, the promoter of the idea, "as we will have six feet clearance only."

The new traffic will be completed by school time and parents are asked to assist in training all school children to use the underpass properly.

Those coming west along the north side of the Canal from the northeast section will also be diverted to the tunnel walkway.

$150,000.00 Project

So. Bell Plans Expanded Facilities For Improved Service To Glades Area

The Southern Bell Telephone Company plans to spend approximately $150,000.00 to improve and expand its facilities in the Glades area, it was announced today by Bob Lee, manager for the company.

Included in the project already under construction at the corner of S. W. Avenue E. and State Road 715 in Belle Glade, will be a work center, store room, and a 227 foot microwave tower. The building will be constructed by Butler and Omburn, Inc. of West Palm Beach and the Tower, Construction Company of Sioux City, Iowa.

"Fallout shelters are not a family problem in the Glades — there are no basements — unique characteristics of soil affords no protection against radioactive fallout — no hills into which to burrow, and no gravel or sand to supplement concrete" say Belle Glade's City Commission in a telegram to the Secretary of Defense asking for permission and leadership in design and specifications of community fallout shelters built into the dike around Lake Okeechobee, "without in any manner endangering the levee or its primary purpose."

The wire makes it clear that Belle Glade is not seeking "gratuitous financial expenditures of large sums" but "believes in an practices self-help, and pledges full resources, both in personnel and financial resources, to the Commissioning of the City Fathers ask for "leadership and guidance," with a specific request that "a pilot or experimental shelter be begun on or before September 30th, 1961."

State Department Sterile Bureaucracy Says Sen. Smathers

Senator George Smathers has offered a bill which gives some possibility of producing "fresh, imaginative foreign policy" and one "geared to the views of an incoming President."

He says, "The bill at first received little notice or support, but now I feel it is making headway."

There are about 13,800 State Department employees. The President appoints only 110 of them, including 88 ambassadors.

The rest, since they are under civil service, are merely shuffled about with a change of administration. That practice, it seems to me, creates a sterile, inflexible bureaucracy, not geared to the job of producing fresh, imaginative foreign policy or one responsive to the views of an incoming President of his Secretary of State.

In this complex age, my President or Secretary of State must rely on the advice, opinion, position papers and memoranda from scores of State Department subordinates — most of them "old hands" who screen reports from the field, filter and brief them then send them to the President or Secretary of State.

They have proposed and defended for years.

Lionie J. Warren Honor Man Of Month

In the official house organ of the American Home Mutual Life Insurance Company, Lionie Warren's picture tops the front page with the heading "Honor Man of the Month."

The Glades, Belle Glade and Lionie get a boost in the following:

"Lionie J. Warren lives in Belle Glade, Florida. Belle Glade is right in the heart of the Everglades close to Lake Okechobee. Weather conditions affect this section of Florida worse than any other part of the country. Belle Glade and the surrounding territory are susceptible to hurricane winds, heavy rains, floods and even freezes. It is not unusual to have one or two crops entirely destroyed during the year by these elements. Then the farmers have to start all over again and hope to get in the crops within the allotted time. They usually grow three crops a year.

During the past seven years, Mr. Warren has been the agent there. He has done a remarkable job in premium collections, advance pay and low arrears. Regardless of the weather conditions or the ruin of the crops, he has always kept a perfect condition of his accounts with collections close to 100 percent and arrears always under 8 percent. He has built a debit of over $1,000.00.

We must take our hats off to Mr. Warren, a man who can do such a wonderful job with so many disappointing conditions and circumstances. He is very successful in his insurance work with our company; he is a general agent, working alone and earning a substantial income averaging $7,000.00 a year.

We are very fortunate in having a man as capable as Mr. Warren in the Belle Glade district."

To the Editor
Belle Glade Herald
Dear Sir:

After seeing the Junior-Major League baseball tournament in Miami last week, I wonder what has happened to sportsmanship? Is it a lost art these days? I now agree with the articles in Life, Look and Parents Magazines. Each article questioned sportsmanship and said in plain English, that the boys are being taught by parents, coaches and other teams to WIN no matter how you do it. Our team, Tri-Cities (made up of Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay boys) received a rough decision in Miami last week. We were playing against Opa-Locka. Tri-Cities were ahead 2-0 in the top of the 4th when Opa-Locka came to bat. Their coach must have undoubtedly given them the go ahead, because things became very rough. Our catcher, Keith Padgett from Pahokee received a spike wound in the wrist as he tagged an Opa-Locka runner, sliding into home. The umpire called the runner out, then changed his mind and called him safe, even the Keith had tagged him and still had the ball. If you saw Jim Dooley's sports program that night you may have noticed Keith showing the umpire he had the ball. It made no difference that the runner was still called safe. Keith had to leave the game, was taken to a doctor for treatment of the spike wound that required 2 stitches. John Brown Evans of South Bay then came in as catcher. As another Opa-Locka boy was sliding into home John's pants leg was badly ripped and he received a bruise high on the inside of his leg. It could have been badly wounded, if the boys aim had been better. Several more incidents occurred, an Opa-Locka boy started for our pitcher, another argued with our shortstop. Finally Mrs. Mary Waters of South Bay spoke to the commissioner, who was watching this all the time, and told him our boys weren't used to playing under such conditions, that someone was going to be seriously hurt if the rough play kept on. The commissioner wasn't aware of what was happening! Just at that time an Opa-Locka boy, that was put out on second, started for our second baseman and in turn our pitcher started in to break it up. THATS when the commissioner acted. He called time and warned BOTH teams and coaches that unless they control themselves, BOTH would be disqualified from the tournament! Do you know what our boys had done? John Evans, had pushed the boy that spiked him and in turn they had to take that boy off the field. He was ready to tear into John for PUSHING him. Yet, our team was warned too. We lost the game, but it's not the hurt of being eliminated from the tournament that prompted me to write. We've suffered plenty of losses and take it in stride.

It's just the dirty tactics that caused us to lose. Tri-Cities lost the game, but at least they had no blood on their spikes. They came home with a clean record and clean conscience. What hurts is that the commissioner allowed Opa-Locka Electric Field, after using such dirty tactics.

Congratulations to Alvin Early, Mr. Morell and Tom Slager for coaching Tri-Cities boys into giving a fine performance of clean playing and sportsmanship.

Thanking you,
Mrs. Tony Bondad

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:
I see where one of them column writers says the 16th Amendment that give the Federal Government the right to levy income taxes came to only folks changing wives and kids in 48 years the laws covering the collection of them taxes now runs to 440,000 words. He claims a good tax lawyer can take them 440,000 words and do a marvelous job for his client.

The great trouble, Mister Editor, is that us pore folks can't afford to hire a tax lawyer. I see, for instance, where the lawyers for a Hollywood movie actor is trying to get a $32,000 refund on his income taxes on account of what he spent taking glamor girls to night clubs. His lawyers is claiming it's part of his business to make these social contacts. And the chances are that he'll get the refund.

I don't care how much refund he gets, but it just goes to show you how complicated them 31 words has got in 48 years. I reckon that feller got a few hand-squeezes and some Sears & Roebuck kind of stuff from them glamor girls, but if he gets $32,000 out of the deal, he's doing pretty good. Back in my day, afore we got them 440,000 words, if you took a gal to the county fair and bought her a red lemonade, the only reward you got was to take her home, set under the shade of a tree and squeeze the lemonade out of her—the gal, not the tree. I doubt if the national debt was more'n $32,000 at that time.

It seems to me that we got a nation-wide conspiracy going on in this country to crush the pore man with high-faluting words and complicated red tape. Take, for instance, the liability insurance policy I carry on that old beat up car of mine. I never drive more'n 25 miles a hour on account of knowing what kind of forms I'll have to fill out if I have a accident.

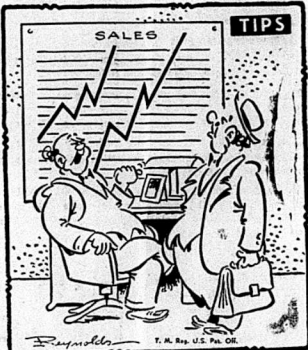

Well, Zeke Grubb's preacher came by the store for a few minutes again Saturday night. Said he couldn't stay long on account of being on his way to perform a wedding ceremony. But he stayed long enough to give the fellers a few tips on matrimony. He allowed as how wedding rings was now gitting so small it took a magnifying glass to see 'em. He claims preacher has to wear his bifocals at the ceremony to tell where the ring is put on. They ain't meant to last more'n a few years, he says, on account of He talks mighty brave, Mister Editor, fer a feller that's got a small house and a big wife.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Homecoming Sunday

Sunday will be Homecoming Day at the First Independent Missionary Baptist Church. There will be dinner on the grounds and the public is invited to attend. Regular services will be in the morning and singing in the afternoon.

WSWN 800 E. C. Sundays 12:45 p. m.

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace (Isaiah 52:7).

In all human beings there is a longing to meet something good; yes, a desire to become good. In spite of everything, a vestige of the image of God lies deep down in our minds and hearts, covered though they may be with dirt and uncleanness. Deep calls unto deep, and we reach up longingly toward Him — toward God — in whose image we are made.

How many times I have met this longing, sometimes seeing it become a flame at the right moment! I have recognized it in the modern atheist in the West, and I have seen it in people in the deep forests of the Congo.

We become rich when we find who is the source of all good and His life becomes our life. We possess that which dispels the darkness from our lives and take away the night from the lives of others. What an unspeakable joy to have that which gives perspective and meaning to our life! It makes such a person a messenger of the good news to others.

PRAYER: My God and holy Father, my life is in Thy hands. Grant that I may possess what is worth possessing. Take all other things away. I will hold fast to what Thou has given me. In the name of our Savior, who taught us to say, "Our Father Who art in heaven... Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
We become rich when we find God is the source of all good and His life becomes our life.

KATHLEEN LIVINGSTON, Church Editor

Presiding Minister

Jehovah's Witnesses

Returns From Europe

Mr. James Gwin Zea, presiding minister of the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has just returned from an eight week's visit to 14 European countries where he attended a series of international United Witnesses' district assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses in Copenhagen, Hamburg, Turin, Paris, London and Amsterdam.

The purpose of these assemblies is to provide Christian fellowship and a ministerial training program for the many thousands who attended.

During the 5300 miles traveled in England and on the continent of Europe attending these conventions, Mr. Zea visited the ancient city of Rome where he saw many of the monuments in the absence of the Rev. August Koerber, who is expected to return next week.

The British Museum was filled with archaeological exhibits that were much enjoyed because of their confirmation of the authenticity of the Bible and its accounts about the ancient nations of Egypt, Babylon, Assyria, Persia, Greece and Rome. Bible manuscripts dating back to the third century were also on exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thibodeau of the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses also made extensive travels to attend the above mentioned assemblies. They too report a most enjoyable trip.

The featured discourse of all the conventions was "When All Nations Unite Under God's Kingdom" by Nathan H. Knorr, President of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc. in Hamburg, Germany, over $2,000 heard this Bible lecture.

Mr. Zea said that "while the privilege of visiting the many countries of Europe and attending the many assemblies there was most enjoyable, it was good to be home again better equipped to carry on Bible teaching activity on the local scene."

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The highest earthly representative of God, speaking of human ability to reflect divine power, prophetically said to his disciples, speaking not for his day only but for all time: 'He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also,' and 'These signs shall follow them that believe.'" SALUTE TO FLORIDA COUNTIES • GILCHRIST COUNTY SEAT - TRENTON

Gilchrist County was formed in 1925 from the western portion of Alachua County and was named for Governor Albert H. Gilchrist. General agriculture and the lumber industry comprise the county's principal sources of income.

The County is noted for its growing of watermelons and the raising of hogs which is the largest single source of income in the county. There is a large quantity of standing timber, principally pine and cypress, and turpentine distilleries are a major source of income.

In progressive Gilchrist County, and throughout Florida, the United States Forestry Association works constantly to maintain the sale of beer in the state under orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of the people of Florida, the Association stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials.
